

ABCD Institute Online Training: Calling All Connectors

ABCD for Common Wealth & Other Tales of Wonder Fall 2021

You are invited to a series of conversations over 6 sessions exploring principles and applications of Asset-Based Community Development in the community. We will engage in conversations around the many challenges we are facing today and the power of connection. This is an 18-hour series focused on building community resilience and a belief that what we need, is here.

Who Should Attend

People's lives are transformed by ABCD and this series is for all connectors and those curious about the strength of their community.

Some of the tales shared and topics discussed may include:

- How might communities respond to crisis when resilience is under pressure?
- How might ABCD address income and race disparity?
- What are the ingredients in a community that can bring people together?
- What does it take to create a healthy community?
- How can ABCD re-engage curiosity in the world and create belonging?

Workshop Leaders Your storytellers will be three experienced ABCD Stewards affiliated with the ABCD Institute at DePaul University – Dee Brooks, Michelle Dunscombe and Joe Erpenbeck.
